School elections Saturday

Four seek seats on Antioch Grade School Board

Four persons are contending for the three available positions on the Board of Education of Antioch Community Consolidated Grade School District.

They are: Ray Atwood (incumbent), James Miles, Gail Heath and William Channon.

In conjunction with a forum sponsored by the Antioch Elementary Education Association, the four responded to questions submitted by the teachers and parents. Two of the questions were:

1) It is a fact that most people run for school board membership with the idea of making one or two significant changes. Do you have any changes you would be particularly interested in for District 34?

2) One of the reasons that our district is in the financial shape it is in is due to its inability to get a referendum passed. What steps, if any, do you think can be taken to alleviate this problem?

The responses of the four candidates are as follows:

RAY ATWOOD (businessman)

1) I did not run for the school board three years ago with the intention of making any significant changes, nor do I have this in mind in running for a second term. If I could make any changes at this time, I would like to see the programs which were cut be reinstated, but due to the present financial state of the district, this is not possible.

2) To pass a referendum, the people in the district must vote to add a financial responsibility to what they already have. I myself am willing to do this for our children to have a fuller education. Until enough parents and friends of the school feel this way, we just cannot pass one.

JAMES MILES (CLC teacher)

1) I have two specific goals in mind: to reinstate the cancelled programs and to utilize the facilities to their fullest potential.

2) We do need a referendum, but we should go into an extensive public education program. The ground work needs to be laid. I don't think we can rush right into another referendum.

GAIL HEATH (housewife)

1) My reason for running for the Antioch Grade School Board can be summed up in two words: "I care."

2) Obviously, part of the problem is the fact that less than 30 percent of the parents even voted in the last two referendums. In order to alleviate this problem, the parents must begin by taking a much more positive attitude toward the education of their children.

WILLIAM CHANNON (credit manager)

1) Being a newcomer to Antioch, I have no specific changes in mind at this time. I am deeply concerned about the financial position of District 34 and want to learn all that I can about the problems that face the School Board and become involved in solving these problems.

2) Schedule another referendum as soon as possible now that taxes have been temporarily reduced. Obtain full support of the School Board, teachers and parents of students to organize telephone campaigns, handle publicity and do the hard work involved. Also, advise the voters exactly what will happen if the referendum fails.

The school board election is set for Saturday, April 13. Voting will take place in the Antioch, Oakland and Channel Lake grade school buildings. Polls open at Noon and close at 7:00 p.m.

CLC Polling places same as those for High School

In the school board elections Saturday, April 13, voters will be able to cast ballots for candidates for the College of Lake County Board at the same places that they vote for Antioch High School Board candidates.

Specifically, the polling places are: Antioch Community High School, B.J. Hooper School and Pleviak School. Polls will be open from Noon until 7:00 p.m.

Seven candidates are seeking the three positions open. They

Antioch, Lake Villa officials in boundary meeting

Special committees from the Village Boards and Planning Commissions of Antioch and Lake Villa met for the first time

Wednesday, April 3, to begin discussions concerning a boundary agreement.

The committees were appointed in January, after professional planner Bruce Christensen had suggested such a course of action to the Antioch Planning Commission. Christensen led off Wednesday's meeting with an explanation of the Preliminary Land Use Map he has prepared as part of the Comprehensive Plan for Antioch.

"It has become apparent to my firm that at some point in the future Antioch and Lake Villa are going to meet somewhere in between the existing villages," Christensen told the assembled officials. "A boundary agreement now might prevent problems in the future."

"That's why we've invited you up here tonight — to get

Del Jahneke dies after long bout with cancer

Nearly two decades of involvement and activity — and painful struggle — came to an end Saturday, with the death of Delia (Del) Jahneke, 56, of the Beach Grove Rd. area south of Antioch.

She had been paralyzed and confined to a wheelchair since 1946, the victim of a spinal cord tumor which attacked only her nervous system. Except for the paralysis and the pain which it caused, Del was able to function on all other levels.

It was only in the last few weeks that the cancer finally spread to her brain, bringing rapid death.

Del had been a resident of this area for 28 years, the wife of Edward H. Jahneke. She was a member of the Antioch Methodist Church and a teacher in the Sunday School program there for many years.

Perhaps her most noted involvement, however, was with the American Legion Auxiliary, holding several offices in that organization. In 1964-65 she was LaPetite Chapeau of Lake County 8 and 40.

For at least 15 years, Del served as publicity chairman of the 10th District American Legion Auxiliary. Her work brought her numerous and repeated honors.

In 11 consecutive years of State competition, her 10th District Publicity Press Book won six first place awards and five second place honors.

In addition, she won many awards and prizes for having the best publicity report at the annual State convention and the greatest number of column-inches of Legion Auxiliary publicity in the State.

Adequate disposal area acceptable to Plan Commission

If the CCD Disposal Co. can get the required approvals for its proposed landfill operation east of the village, then the members of the Planning Commission "have no other objection to the project."

That was the statement of a motion approved by the Commission at its regular meeting Thursday, April 4. The petition of CCD for rezoning and a special use permit will be the subject of a public hearing Tuesday night April 23.

The Commission had previously declined to make a recommendation on the request, since CCD was still in the process of seeking the necessary State and Federal approvals and permits.

Professional planner Bruce Christensen pointed out that the Commission had made an indirect recommendation by showing the area as an industrial use on a Preliminary Land Use map approved as a working document a few weeks earlier.

He pointed out that an agreement is being drafted between CCD and the Village Board, stating that the firm has tentative approval to proceed with the project, pending the receipt of approvals from the Environmental Protection Agency, the Soil and Water Conservation District, Applied Engineering (the Village engineer) and Harland, Bartholomew and Associates (the Village planner).

Village Attorney Andrew Lynch said Monday that the agreement is just in draft form now. Its purpose he revealed, would be to give the firm some basis on which to proceed with the detailed planning and application for permits that must precede the project. Lynch said that the agreement would not be voted on by the Village Board until after the public hearing has been held and the Zoning Board has given a recommendation.

some input of your ideas on this," he explained to the Lake Villa contingent.

The first meeting was merely an exchange of general ideas, questions about the comprehensive planning process, and expressions of confidence in the cooperative approach between the two towns.

The only definite decision made was to meet again May 1 in Lake Villa.

Christensen said that he suggested the meeting between the Antioch and Lake Villa officials because the one-and-half mile jurisdiction limits of the two villages overlap in the general area of Grass Lake Road and Route 83. As each village annexes more land in the intervening area, that overlapping will become greater.

He explained further that his firm feels that Grass Lake Road forms a natural southern boundary for the eventual expansion of Antioch. Thus, he said, the committees might decide to agree that the villages set that road as the boundary line between them.

"It's quite possible that there might be other things beneficial to both communities that could become topics for discussion," Christensen said. He mentioned cooperation between the fire protection districts and creation of a park district as possible examples.

Giant Step for Consumerism

A giant step forward in behalf of consumerism was taken last week by the U.S. House of Representatives in passing a bill establishing the Consumer Protection Agency. This new legislative proposal, designed to protect the interests of consumers, establishes no new authority to regulate or control any segment of our economy — nor does it appear to conflict with the statutory roles of the Food and Drug Administration, the Federal Trade Commission — or other regulatory bodies in the Federal system.

The new Consumer Protection Agency would become an official source of information regarding products and services which are commonly purchased by consumers. The information gathered by the agency would be disseminated widely both in annual reports and in response to individual or group requests.

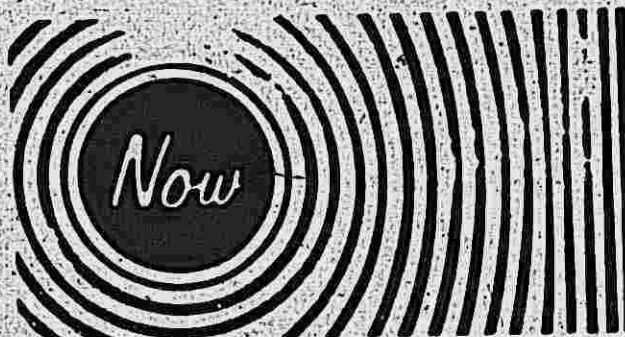

The most important role of the proposed Consumer Protection Agency would be to intervene in behalf of consumers in agency and departmental proceedings in which the safety or quality of a consumer product or service is involved. Administrative decisions by such Federal agencies would be subject to judicial review as in other cases of administrative decisions.

While the proposed Consumer Protection Agency is authorized to test and evaluate the safety or quality of products and services, it is contemplated that this would be performed by private research laboratories under contract with the Agency. However, there is not authority for the establishment of a Federally operated facility for this purpose. In addition, there is a prohibition against declaring one product superior to another.

The proposed Consumer Protection Agency is to be established in the Executive Branch, with the Administrator and Deputy Administrator to be appointed by the President subject to confirmation by the Senate. The measure, as amended, limits the life of the agency to three years, at which time the entire subject will come again to the Congress for review — and action.

A substantial body of opinion opposes any and all Federal representation of consumer interests as authorized in the House bill. On the other hand, consumer advocates consider that this legislation is far too weak to protect consumers in their relationship with the various large corporate interests which control the manufacture and marketing of consumer products. Backed by such diverse interests as consumer advocate Ralph Nader and Administration spokesman, Roy Ash, this reasonable approach to consumer legislation would seem destined for passage and approval at this session of Congress.

Easter Thought

From the beginning, Easter has been the most important feast of Christianity. The power and symbolism of the resurrection of Jesus were not lost on the first disciples, even though the full significance of that event is only realized with centuries of reflection.

In the early church, the resurrection was central. Even the cross of death was depicted with the risen Christ — not the suffering victim with which we are familiar today — on it.

Life, not death, is at the heart of the message of Jesus, Holy Week and Easter.

In the passion, death and resurrection of Jesus, we know that we are "set free." But "free" from what?

More than anything, Christ's return to life is an announcement that death is not the end of life, that death no longer has power over us, that we need not fear it. St. Paul asks of Death, "Where is thy victory? Death, where is thy sting?"

In the victory of Jesus over death, we, too, are set free.

We are free to make the most of Life, free to enjoy it in its fullest, as God's gift to us.

In the Springtime of the year, as the whole world returns to life around us, we should be most aware of the joy of Easter. The traditions of Easter — the trumpeting lilies, the frisky bunnies, the new clothes, the laughter of egg-hunting children, even the multi-colored eggs themselves — tell us so vividly that life is all around us, waiting for us to enter into it.

Easter, of course, would have no meaning without the passion of Jesus, not so much a matter of his agony, but of his self-sacrifice, his giving of himself so that others might find life.

Putting this example into practice in our own lives can make Easter real here and now in Antioch.

Rhythm Band Succeeds

In behalf of the First Graders of St. Peter School, I'd like to thank you for the lovely pictures and article you printed regarding our "Rhythm Band Review" which was presented last Wednesday night, April 3rd.

All of us estimate 300 people in attendance, which was very gratifying to the children as they worked very hard to present a good show, and the larger the audience the more rewarding it is.

entertained the residents at the Terrace Nursing Home in Waukegan and it is impossible to describe the joy on the faces of the elderly people. It was beautiful to see how well 6 and 7 year olds could "communicate" thru "song and dance" with oldsters.

I feel certain your newspaper added much to the success of both programs.

God Bless

Gentlemen:

About three years ago my husband and I, and a few of our children were skiing at Wilmot Mountain. At about 9:30 p.m. one of my sons sustained a head injury and was carried off the slope to the first aid room. We were paged off the hill to see our son. There was no bleeding, and a minimal bump. However, because of his incoordination and drowsy behavior we became quite concerned. We carried my son to the car and gathered the rest of our brood, and dropped them off at home. After calling a friend to let an adult know I had left young children at home unattended, my husband and I then drove our injured son to the hospital in Waukegan. On the way my son's symptoms became more severe. He began vomiting, and every small bump in the road caused him to cry out in pain. We felt quite helpless as we knew nothing could be done until we arrived at the hospital. Time was essential, but we could not speed because of the general condition of the road. Finally, we arrived at the hospital and he was admitted by the doctor on call as Dr. Lorang's patient. Several xrays were taken of his skull, and it turned out that my son had an extensive fracture of his skull. No one was sure of the extent of injury to the brain. The possibility of surgery loomed large before us. It was necessary to call a neurosurgeon, and after more tests and several hours it was decided to follow a watch and wait policy. Fortunately, surgery was not necessary and after several weeks in the hospital followed with rest at home he finally returned to school.

My husband is Dr. Abderholden, and he always takes his medical bag with him in case of an emergency. At no time did he ask for his bag, or carry out an extensive examination of our son. The symptoms were obvious and could be described by any lay person. The complete evaluation of the severity of a head injury cannot be made at the home or out of the doctor's bag. Severe symptoms following a head injury require emergency care best rendered in a hospital. This advice can be given personally or by phone, with the latter, essential time is not lost. One of the many things the Rescue Squad has learned is to follow the instructions of the physician. Successful care is correlated with confidence in your physician. Both the patient and the physician suffer an injustice when the confidence is absent. All patients should seek out a physician in whom they have enough confidence to follow his instructions.

Suturing facilities and elaborate xray equipment is not required nor is it present in many doctor's offices. We live within the 25 mile radius of the nearest hospital trauma center in Waukegan. Emergency care is measured in time as well as miles and it is always unfortunate to live at the outer perimeter of emergency care. The community felt this was close enough when they voted down the formation of a hospital in this area.

Delores Abderholden

Thanks

Dear Mr. Rush:

As President of the Cooperative Blood Replacement Plan, I want to express the sincerest thanks of everyone in our organization for the support you and your fine newspaper have given our program during January Blood Donor Month, and throughout the entire year of 1973.

While blood and blood banking is receiving increased attention in the public press, it still requires strong persuasive efforts to encourage the first time donor to give blood. The responsible work of your people in this area has been highly commendable. They have made a solid contribution to the overall persuasive effort, and they have effectively explained the advantages of joining CBRP. The result of their work is that CBRP now has the largest computerized file of blood donors in Illinois — over 102,000 blood donors!

I feel that we can both be justly proud of this achievement. Together in total, we have accomplished much more than the sum of our separate parts. We have built a program and proven an idea. Because of our achievement, the way to a lasting 100 percent volunteer blood donor system is immediately before us!

It has been extremely gratifying to receive your support during 1973 and January Blood Donor Month. We owe your newspaper a growing debt of gratitude for helping us in our community work of public education.

I hope that we will continue to merit your help in 1974 as we urge people to help others with their blood donation, and help themselves by joining the Cooperative Blood Replacement Plan.

Sincerely,
Frank E. Trobaugh, Jr., M.D.
President

ANTIOCH NEWS

In rebuttal to Mr. Ken Mazzuca's letter regarding the services rendered by Dr. Abderholden and Associates I wish to express my opinion.

Being a patient of theirs since childhood, occasions have arisen where I too have needed a doctor in the middle of the night more than once and have never, but never, been turned away or have ever hung up without complete satisfaction. I can't say enough about these dedicated men and their staff.

I'm now married, have a child and live out of town but still would never consider seeing other doctors.

As an example of the kindness and consideration, if I or my child need a doctor I am instructed to go to the hospital if one of them is there as it is closer for me and this is obviously for my convenience.

I think in these days and times credit should certainly be given in one of the few places it is still due.

Incumbents , Newcomers vie for High School Board

All four incumbents whose terms on the Antioch Community High School Board are up this year are seeking return to the board. They are challenged by two newcomers.

Board president Robert Lindblad, Secretary Bette Meyer and Dr. Al Bucar, all of Antioch, are running for full three-year terms. They are challenged by Nadyne Sedar of Lake Villa.

Howard Bonner of near Lindenhurst, who was appointed last September to the position vacated by the resignation of Larry Fears, is running for the unexpired portion of that term. William Bachochin of Lindenhurst is also seeking that one-year term.

Lindblad said that in completing 10 years of service on the board, he feels that he is beginning to see some of the fruits of the board's work. He would like to "be around to see this carried through," he said.

In addition, he set three other goals, the first being the full reinstatement of the programs which have been partially restored in the past two years. He would also like to see some further curriculum updating and a reduction of the school deficit, as promised by the board.

He pointed to his long service on the board as his major qualification. Before that he had served three years on the grade school board.

Mrs. Meyer has been a board member for six years. "I really feel that it takes some time to be actively participating once you've been on the board," she said. She indicated that, with her past experience, she can "now substantially contribute to the board."

She and her husband have been in business for 24 years, and she said that finance and funding will be the major areas of concern in the next few years, especially so because of the current controversy over the property tax.

Bucar referred to his nine years of tenure on the board, saying that he has seen a lot happen in some very difficult periods. "We have come out of that now, and I want to see that we continue expanding our quality programs."

In addition to his experience on the high school board and the St. Peter School Board, Bucar has been active in the administration of the Illinois Optometrist's Association and the Lake County Health Services Planning Council.

The most critical issue now, he said, is the question of what is going to happen financially. Some critical problems are looming, the doctor warned, with the property tax crisis.

"We must be prepared to modify our program, if necessary, to utilize the resources that we will have," Bucar said.

Mrs. Sedar said that she is running for a position on the board because she feels that "a certain diversity of ideas is important." Also, she added that the Lake Villa area is currently not well-represented on the board.

As head nurse in the obstetrical department at St. Therese's hospital, Mrs. Sedar is responsible for the management of 55 employees, she said. In addition to her training in nursing, she is taking courses at CLC to further herself, and has had training in management.

As for the issues, she said that she feels "very strongly" that the most important is motivation. With the type of independent study programs followed at the upper grade schools, she explained that students get into high school, "where they just don't seem to be motivated to do what they can do." She added that she will have three children in high school next year.

Mrs. Sedar also cited vocational education as a pressing need. At present, she charged, high school graduates are not really qualified to enter the work force without additional training.

Bonner said that he is running because he wants to finish off the remaining year of the term to which he was appointed.

"I have no big deals, like some others," he said, "just to keep the school on an even keel, as it is running smoothly now."

He is a graduate of Antioch Township High School and was a member of the Milburn School board for 20 years, until 1970.

At present, he said, there are no really critical issues at the high school.

Bachochin said that, in his opinion, "any issue right now is

Grass Lake Candidates

Candidates seeking election to the three available vacancies on the Grass Lake School Board are Lawrence Lloyd, Beverly Mattson, Gregory LaPlante and Jeanne Handschiegel.

Mr. Lloyd, a resident of District 36, has declared his candidacy for one of the three open positions.

Mrs. Mattson is the President of the Lake County Mother of Twins Club, and is active in the Brownie Scouts and St. Peter's Church in Antioch. In seeking a Board position she hopes to inform the community on school needs and enlist their support in efforts to provide and maintain improved education. High on the list of her goals and objectives is to "bring about an ever improving program, one which is constantly striving to find better and more effective ways to educate our children."

Mr. LaPlante, in his bid for a Board position, hopes to provide for "the best possible preparation and environment for the children of District No. 36." Commenting on some of the main issues in education today, he feels "securing more adequate and appropriate financial support for public schools, and providing equal education to all children without relinquishing the uniqueness of each district and each child" are important.

Jeanne Handschiegel said that she wishes to take a direct interest in the education of children of District No. 36. She feels more school involvement of children to give them pride in their school is important in the educational process. Smaller class sizes and building modernization are also important.

The election will be held on Saturday, April 13, 1974, from Noon to 7:00 p.m. at the Grass Lake School.

Emmons Incumbents run unopposed

Richard Ruck and Daniel Maras, incumbent members of the Emmons Grade School Board, are the only persons seeking election in that district. With no opposition, the two are assured of re-election.

critical." He explained that a particular matter may not seem significant, but "through a snowballing effect" it can become critical.

He is running, he stated, because he feels that he can be of service to the community.

He moved to the area three years ago from Frankfort, Illinois where he was a member of the police department. He recently became involved on the Lake Villa Police department. In this work, he said, he has done and is doing a lot of work with teenagers. He was also a neighborhood commissioner with the Boy Scouts. Because of this involvement, he explained, he is quite concerned about young people.

In his work as a plant manager, Bachochin pointed out, he has gained extensive management and financial experience. Also, he was actively involved as past president of a homeowners' association, in which position he had to deal with schools on problems of development and taxes.

The high school board election will be held Saturday, April 13. Voting places will be at the high school, B.J. Hooper School and Pleviak School. Polls will be open from Noon until 7:00 p.m.

the statements of candidates for the district Board of Education on several issues are invited to watch them on television.

Paul Epner, president of the Antioch Elementary Education Association, said that the "Meet the Candidates" forum sponsored by the group last Thursday night was taped on the Upper Grade School's new video tape unit. He said he would be glad to arrange a viewing of the tape - which runs about 45 minutes - for anyone who would like to see it.

The video tape unit was purchased with funds provided by a donation from the Land, Air, Water (L.A.W.) group, which has been conducting paper drives each month, school principal Bill Herbst said. Student funds, such as picture fees, and other Student Council fund-raising activities provided part of the purchase price also, Herbst added.

Herbst mentioned that absentee ballots may be secured at the Upper Grade School business office, he stressed that all local schools are registration points, for those who may not yet be registered to vote.

Self-appointed Loon Lake Area Clean Club is praised in citizen letter

A couple weeks ago Helen Sterbenz mentioned to Annie Mae about three young school-children she had seen picking up garbage and trash in her yard at Loon Lake. She found out that the children are students at the Oakland Grade School. The following is a letter Mrs. Sterbenz sent the children through the school.

Dear Mike and Terri Letteri and John Carson:

I am writing this letter to the three wonderful youngsters who live in Loon Lake and who are trying to keep this part of the country clean. A week ago, I got in my car to go to the grocery store to shop and I saw three children on our grounds by Grass Lake Road. They were picking up garbage and beer cans that people had thrown out of cars.

I was so shocked at their

Trio opening at PM & L

PM & L's next production, Trio, opens on Saturday, April 20, at the PM & L Theatre, 877 Main St. in Antioch. The shows other play dates are Fridays and Saturdays, April 26 and 27, and May 3 and 4. Curtain time for all performances is 8:30 p.m. The production, imaginatively conceived and executed by Don Beveroth, is an evening's program of three one-act plays. They are "The Dirty Old Man", "Riders to the Sea", and "Fumed Oak".

Since each of these plays needs at least one article devoted to itself, only one of them is discussed here. "Riders to the Sea," a non-political Irish play by John M. Synge, has been the subject of remarkable critical acclaim. It is often regarded as one of the best one-act plays ever written in the English language. The late Bennett Cerf said it was one "of the very finest plays of our time," and George Jean Nathan regarded "Riders of the Sea" as "a classic of the modern world-theatre. It testifies to a compassion for humanity drenched in the tears of a great pity's understanding."

PM & L's cast rises admirably to the challenge posed by a work of such caliber. Shirley Jensen as Maurya, who has lost her husband and her sons to the violent sea, becomes a symbol of all the bereaved women of our time. Lyn Zaehler and Pat Unnerstall develop excellent characterizations as Cathleen and Nora, the daughters left to Maurya, and Dave Oelerich turns in a fine job as Bartley, the last of her sons. PM & L's "Riders to the Sea" thus becomes one of the significant experiences of this theatre season.

In a later article, we hope also to comment on the third play in the threesome, Noel Coward's "Fumed Oak". Meanwhile, be sure to call 395-9702 to reserve your seats to see "Trio!" on any of its five announced play-dates.

picking all this up and piling it in a heap that I stopped the car and thanked them. I had a little change in my purse that I gave them so they could buy some candy. They told me they didn't want to do that because they belonged to a Clean Club.

I was so shocked that I sat there and cried to think that those little tots would do all this on their own. Joe and I are so proud to live near Oakland School. They must have wonderful teachers and a wonderful principal.

This took effort for me to write because I hate to write letters.

PTA urges Letter Writing Campaign

Illinois PTA Legislative chairman, Mrs. Thomas Whalen has issued a call to action for all PTA members and other concerned parents and individuals.

Purpose of the campaign is to write letters to State senators and representatives asking them to support full funding appropriations for schools.

Mrs. Whalen pointed out that H.B. 1484, passed last year, allowed up to $1,260 for educating each child in the public schools each year. Because of lack of funds, she added, unless people urge the full amount allowed be made available to the schools, the schools may not get the money they desperately need to continue even the most basic programs.

Meryl Perlstrom, President of the Gavin PTA and member of the Lake County PTA Council, stressed the urgent need in this county, because of the delay in collecting the local real estate tax and the fact that the assessed valuation was rolled back to 1972 levels.

Letters don't have to be long or involved, Mrs. Whalen advised. But she emphasized that letters are much more effective than petitions.

A similar PTA effort, she said, was responsible, in part, in reducing the cost of milk for school children and in keeping hot lunch programs going in some areas where they might otherwise have been discontinued.

In this area, according to Mrs. Perlstrom, letters should be addressed to State Senator Karl Berning, State Representatives Donald Deuster, W.J. Murphy and Daniel Pierce, in care of the Capital Office Building in Springfield.

BIRTHDAY BOY. Mayor Robert Wilton had a difficult time cutting into the cake made for him by Pillsbury Bake-Off winner Peggy VanPatten of Antioch for his April 1 birthday. The mayor attempted to cut the "cake" - which was simply a block of styrofoam covered with frosting - after the Village Board meeting. Those who stayed to the end of the meeting shared coffee and cookies to help him celebrate his achievement of a certain "landmark" age. (Staff photo)

Lock It and Pocket the Keys

With summer coming the Antioch Jaycee's would like to remind you to lock it and pocket your car keys. Don't make it easy for a kid to become a criminal.

According to the National Auto Theft Bureau, the FBI 1971 Crime Report states: 941,600 cars were stolen during that year. The cars were on an average valued at $933 per car.

53 percent of these cars were stolen by youths under 18 years of age. 75 percent of them were stolen for transportation purposes or for a joy-ride, rather than for the money. 50 percent of these cars were recovered within 48 hours.

The preceding statistics should tell you something. Please remember to lock your car, and to bring the keys with you!

PET CENTER

CARE OF CATS

Cats make excellent pets. They are dignified, very clean and easy to housebreak. They never require walking or exercising and can be trained in basic obedience.

Pick a secluded, quiet spot for your cat to sleep. Select a commercial cat bed or prepare a cushioned box for comfort. Avoid a bed directly on the floor. Floors are drafty!

Handling: Never pick up a cat by the scruff of the neck. Place one hand under the chest area and support the rump with your other hand. Children are the greatest offenders of cat mishandling. A properly warned child can avoid unnecessary scratches.

Grooming: Your cat will keep itself clean. Only in emergencies should you bathe your pet. Daily combing of the fur will keep loose hair at a minimum and protect your home furnishings.

Claws: Scratching to remove scale from claws is a natural instinct for your cat. To avoid damage to furniture and draperies begin training your kitten immediately to use a commercial scratching post.

Each time you find the cat using your furniture smack him gently with a rolled newspaper and demonstrate the post to him. Eventually he will use the post exclusively.

Feeding: Avoid table scraps and bones for your cat. Select a good commercial feed and provide plenty of fresh water as a basic diet.

Cats are hardy and there are few precautions necessary to keep them healthy. However, be sure to have a veterinarian give your cat a distemper inoculation as a preventative measure as soon as possible after acquiring it.

At first signs of illness consult your veterinarian for proper care and medication.

The Senior Regent was then escorted to the altar where Chaplain Norma Lowe presented her with the Judy Frasch Memorial Plaque with the names of all the candidates enrolled in that class enscribed, to be hung in the Chapter room.

The Chapter then proceeded with the Mary Carney Class enrollment of Amanda Rasmussen, sponsored by Gerry Kurtz, and LaVerne DeMaris,

Full Accreditation granted to CLC

The North Central Association of College and Secondary Schools in their annual meeting in Chicago this week granted full accreditation and membership to the College of Lake County for a five-year period.

CLC President Richard Erzen noted: "To receive accreditation for a five-year period is a tribute to the health and vitality of our college, since accreditation for that length of time is the maximum awarded to a new member institution."

According to Dr. Erzen, North Central membership indicates, to other educational institutions and the general public, recognition of the quality of a college's educational program. "Membership is achieved by an institution after a series of intensive self-studies and examinations by a team of North Central representatives," he said. "The College of Lake County, after first opening its doors in 1969, stands as one of the few colleges to achieve this extended membership recognition within such a short time," he said.

"Hindsight's Better Than Foresight"

By Father Keusal

As time takes possession of Antioch, the old dies and the new comes to life. The homes, the stores, the streets and even the men who bury the old and direct the new are victims of time. The parking meter has risen in place of the horse tie, the car has risen in place of the horse, asphalt has replaced the cobble stone, and neon, the old painted signs. Yesterday has given birth to today. Today is dying but will rise to tomorrow. "Today is the first day of the rest of your life," goes the saying. Yesterday had to pass so that we could have today. Today must pay the same price if we are to have tomorrow. This dying and rising is the essence of life.

This dying and rising is of the essence of the Pascal Mystery of Jesus Christ. Another aspect of the Pascal Mystery is the Ascension. These three make up what Christians call the Pascal Mystery, the death, the resurrection and ascension of Jesus Christ.

Christian life is based on the Pascal Mystery. This mystery must enter into our life. The death, the daily terrible things, the sore spots of our life, are faced and encountered and this brings the new life of the Resurrection and each time the resurrection takes place in our life we ascent to a more wholesome existence with the Divine Being for whom we were made.

CLC Music concert

The College of Lake County music department will present the CLC Singers, Community Chorus, and Jazz Ensemble in concert on Sunday, April 28 at 3 p.m. in the Grayslake Junior High School. The concert is open to the public without charge.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

In Luke 9 in the Bible we read how Jesus sent his disciples to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick. This is described in the Lesson-Sermon this week entitled "ARE SIN, DISEASE, AND DEATH REAL?"

From Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, we read: "Our Master's first article of faith propounded to his students was healing, and he proved his faith by his works. The ancient Christians were healers. Why has this element of Christianity been lost? Because our system of religion are governed more or less by our systems of medicine. The schools have rendered faith in drugs the fashion, rather than faith in Deity."

Members of First Church of Christ, Scientist, BEACON HILL, Rte 173 and Harden, Antioch, Illinois invite the public to enjoy the Sunday services held at 11 a.m. Care for children is provided.

"EASTER EVERY DAY"

The teams, which were initiated through the effort of Community Relations Officer

Sue Sedivec, include girls of ages 11 to 16 (birthday by June 1), or girls in the sixth through tenth grades.

There will be about 12 to 15 girls on a team, and area businesses will be approached about sponsoring a team. Team equipment and sweatshirts would be provided by the sponsor.

Also, adult women, ages 19 and older, are being asked to coach a team. Two adults are needed for each team.

So far, 22 young girls have signed up.

The location and time of the games will depend on the availability of the fields and the most convenient time for those participating. Parents will be expected to cover insurance responsibilities for their own child.

Any men interested in and able to umpire for the games are asked to contact Sue Sedivec.

A meeting is tentatively set for April 30, for all interested girls and adults, at which plans will be finalized.

WAUKEGAN SPEEDWAY OPENS. Chicago's Bob Roper will be the man to beat this Saturday night (April 13th) when the Waukegan Speedway opens its late model stock car racing season at 8:00 p.m. Roper won seven features and the track title in the super stock class last year driving a 1972 Chevelle. For this season Roper has a sleek 1974 Vega ready to drive in pursuit of a second straight driving championship.

Waukegan Speedway opens Saturday

The 1974 stock car racing season will take the green flag this Saturday night (April 13) at the Waukegan Speedway. A field of 30 late model super stock cars is expected to enter. The one-quarter mile asphalt oval will open following a one week delay due to poor weather in late March which slowed several construction projects. The track is located on Washington Street in Waukegan just east of Route 41. The first race will start at 8:00 p.m.

One of the most popular cars according to pre-season registrations will be the Camaro. The Speedway has already received 19 entries from Camaro owners and drivers including drivers Bill McDonald, George Dukas, Don Marmor, Dave Evans, Chuck Clark, Ed Dunne, Joe Francisco, Tom Jones and J.P. Gatti, Jr.

But there will be variety in

Kevin O'Neill at center field for Dubuque

University of Dubuque baseball coach Rich Solomon now knows who is who and what is what on his team. The Spartans recently returned from a six-day, nine-game tour of Missouri and Arkansas. This was the first time U.D. went on such a trip and won't be the last, if Solomon has anything to say about it. If U.D. would have waited to start in Dubuque, the first game would be next week.

The Spartans won only three of their nine games on the shakedown trip. However, Solomon now knows his team better—its strong points and its weaknesses.

In a March 31 game, the Spartans were blanked 1-0 by Missouri Southern. Senior centerfielder Kevin O'Neill of Antioch got two of Dubuque's four hits in that game.

the pits, too, as many makes of cars will be represented. Two of the more unusual will be Bob Roper's 1974 Vega and Harley Brown's 1969 Corvair. (The engine in the Corvair will be re-located to the front.)

The 1973 super stock title battle went down to the final night of competition before Bob Roper copped the championship with Tom Jones finishing second and Ed Hoffman taking third. This trio of driving talent will be wheeling new cars this year with Roper in the '74 Vega, Jones in a '73 Camaro and Hoffman switching to a '73 Chevelle.

They can expect stiff opening night competition from Dave Evans ('73 Camaro), Lee Schuler ('72 Chevrolet), Ray Young ('71 Mustang) and Bob Anzinger ('72 Chevelle). Practice will start at 5:00 p.m. opening night with time trials at 7:15 p.m.

Emmons undefeated in Volleyball Tournament

The girls' volleyball team from Emmons Grade School took 1st place in tournament play, Wednesday, April 3. This year's team was the first girls' team in Emmons' history to win a trophy. The team, led by Co-Captains Debbie Layton and Violet Meuter included Carole Duha, Carla Esposito, Sue Fischer, Denise Grohs, Patty Gross, Karen Klean, Michelle Mahar, Laura Miller, Peggy Ray, Jenny Schmidt, Debbie Varney and Debbie Wilson.

Other teams participating in the tournament held at Grass

Lake School included Millburn, Spring Grove, Lotus and Grass Lake. Emmons captured first place by defeating the other schools with scores of 15-2 and 15-2 against Millburn; 15-7, 15-12 against Grass Lake; and 15-3, 15-9 against Lotus. The first game with Spring Grove ended in a 15-3 victory.
